Fall Speculations Develop Period of Steadiness.

PURCHASES PROVE LIMITED

Among the Leading Stocks the Reading Common Seemed Particularly Heavy, While Considerable Strength Was Shown by Steel Common, Which Made a Net Advance.

New York, April 9 .- While in the forepart of business to-day the stock market developed renewed weakness, the general tendency of the movement of prices for the day, as a whole, was toward greater steadiness than was shown yesterday; but encouraging reflections, drawn from this circumstance, lost much of their meaning by reason of the fact that the recovery was obviously due in greatest measure merely to the purchases of stocks by speculators for the fall in pursuance of their usual policy of winding up their contracts at the end of each

There were few, if any, indications of purchases for the rise proper, while investment orders in the market, provoked by yesterday's and to-day's decline, were again wanting. An unusually strong Western Maryland motive for the recovery of stocks of the nature specified was, of course, afforded by the relatively large declines in prices made since the opening of business yes terday morning. At the same time, net changes in market prices to-day were, after all, irregular.

Among the leading stocks the Reading common shares seemed particularly heavy, while as great strength as anywhere exhibited was shown in United States Steel common, although even this only made a net advance of 1/2 a point. The day was without any striking

London Market Irregular. The London market was irregular fears seeming to be entertained there that a threatened money stringency here might stop the shipments of gold to London that are so much needed.

The first announcement regarding next Wednesday's metal remittance was made in the shape of an export engagement of $2,500,000. Sterling exchange was strong. The grain market was inclined to firmness, upon a more pessimistic interpretation of yesterday's government crop report, than prevailed at the time the report was issued. The American Railvay Association's fortnightly report as to the number of idle freight cars exhibited a rather large increase in the number of these cars of 49.2 per cent over that shown in the last report.

All that could be said of the weekly bank statement was that it attested the undoubted efforts now being made by our bankers to so arrange matters that the large prospective losses in cash on account of gold exports should occur with as little disturbance as possible to financial affairs here.

Bank of England in Straits.

The exceedingly poor statement of conditions made by the Bank of England this week made it obvious that either the great institution must gain gol heavily from some quarter in the nea future or else make a further advance in its discount rate, the publication of the government crop report showing an un usually large decline in the condition winter wheat since December 1, and th figures of the American Copper Pro ducers' Association making it clear that the production of copper in the countr is now running heavily in excess of con sumption have been perhaps the mos notable specific occurrences of financia importance during the week.

It may be questioned, however, whether a more influential factor than any o these from a stock market point of view has not been the spread of a general in pression that business in the countr taken as a whole is not as brisk as was earlier in the year.

Basis for such a feeling was at any rat afforded by the summary of trade con ditions published at the end of the wee by Bradstreet's, R. G. Dun & Co., an other commercial authorities. These wer in the main to the effect that coole weather was checking retail trade, job bing was quiet, and fall business re

Ever Stop to Think

What convenience and protection a modern bank offers you? In olden times, when a man acquired riches, whether honestly or dishonestly, he had to hide his money, unless he built a strong room in his own house. Think of the difference now. We not only offer you absolute protection for your money, but WE PAY YOU FOR KEEPING IT FOR YOU. If you don't avail yourself of the opportunity of adding to your income, it is your loss.

We pay 3% Interest on Savings Accounts.
